01

The product

One platform for the quiz, the poll and the exam.

Live on the big screen, in people's own time, or under AI watch.

Why quizzing works ↘

People remember what they're asked, not what they're told.

80%

A week later, students who kept being quizzed recalled about 80% of what they learned. Those who only re-studied recalled about a third.

Karpicke & Roediger, Science, 2008

That's the answer to the cover question.

1.5x

Students in lecture-only classes were 1.5 times more likely to fail than those in active-learning classes.

Freeman et al., PNAS, 2014 · 225 STEM studies

19%

Short quizzes during an online lecture cut mind-wandering from about 41% to 19%.

Szpunar, Khan & Schacter, PNAS, 2013

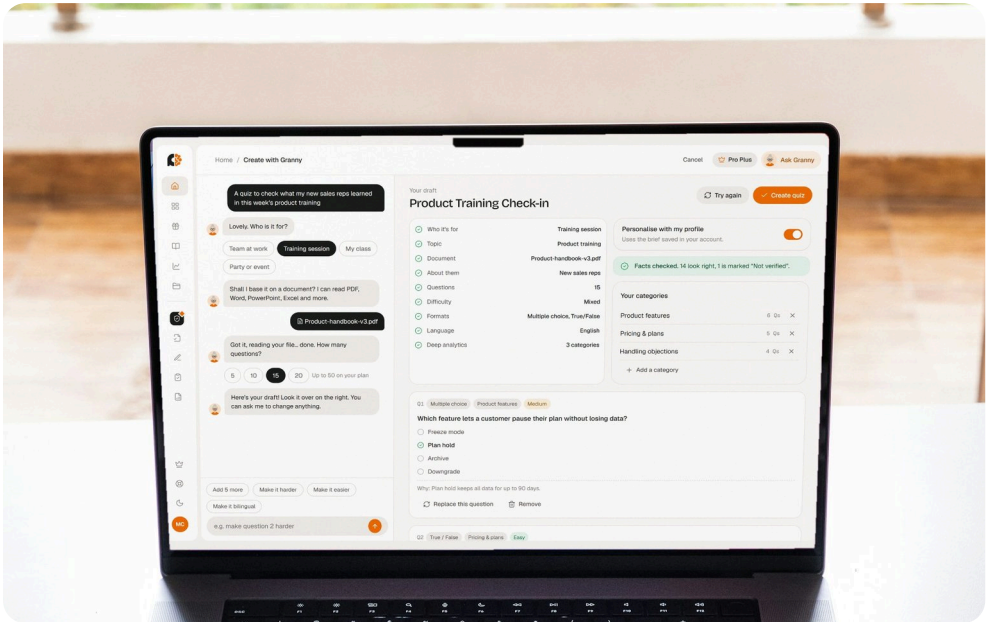

The game part helps too. A meta-analysis of gamified learning found significant positive effects on what people learn and how motivated they are.

Sailer & Homner, Educational Psychology Review, 2020

The platform →

From the first question to the final report, in one browser tab.

Write it, run it, check it, read it. Players install nothing.

AI quiz maker: a topic or a PDF, Word, PowerPoint or Excel file

Granny, an AI assistant that edits with you

Assess

Scheduled tests with tab-switch checks

Negative marking and PDF certificates

Engage

Live quizzes with lifelines and a racing leaderboard

Polls, word clouds and an end-of-quiz recap

Measure

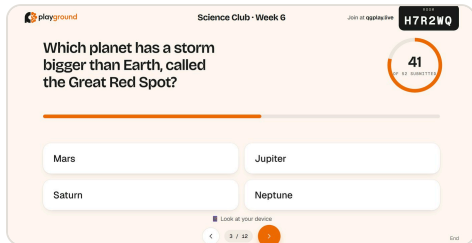

A skills report with heatmaps and score bands

A results link each candidate can open

Slide types →

Questions that score.

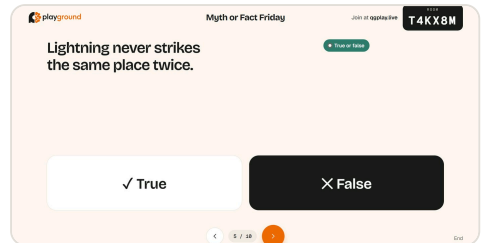

Mix every type in one session, give each question its own timer and points, and add a picture to any question.

Multiple choice

Every plan

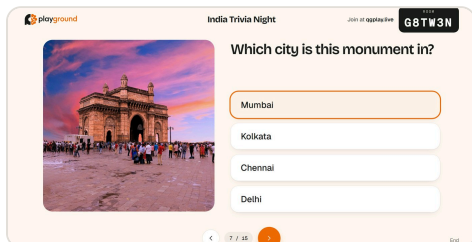

2 to 5 options, one correct, points for speed.

True or false

Every plan

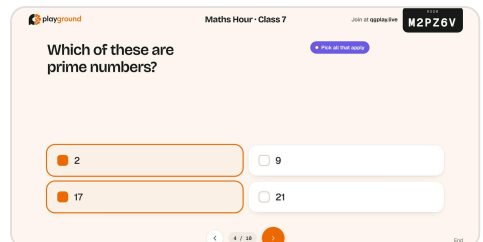

Two big buttons for warm-ups and myth checks.

Picture questions

Every plan

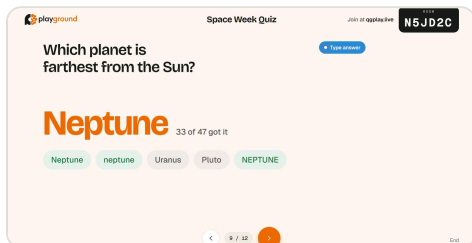

A picture above any question, on any type.

Multi-select

Pro and above

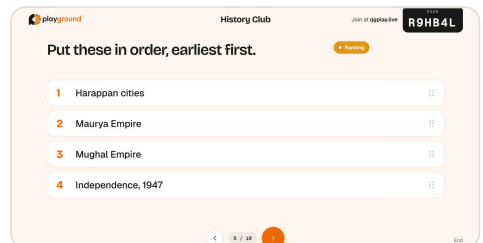

Several right answers, with partial marks.

Proctored assessments →

An invigilator in every browser.

Timed papers from your question bank, a different paper for every candidate, and AI watching the camera, mic and screen while they write.

Build the paper

Drawn from your bank, balanced by topic and difficulty.

Run it under watch

Tab switches are warned. The third ends the exam.

Review and release

Check the flags, then send results links and certificates.

Hiring from campuses?

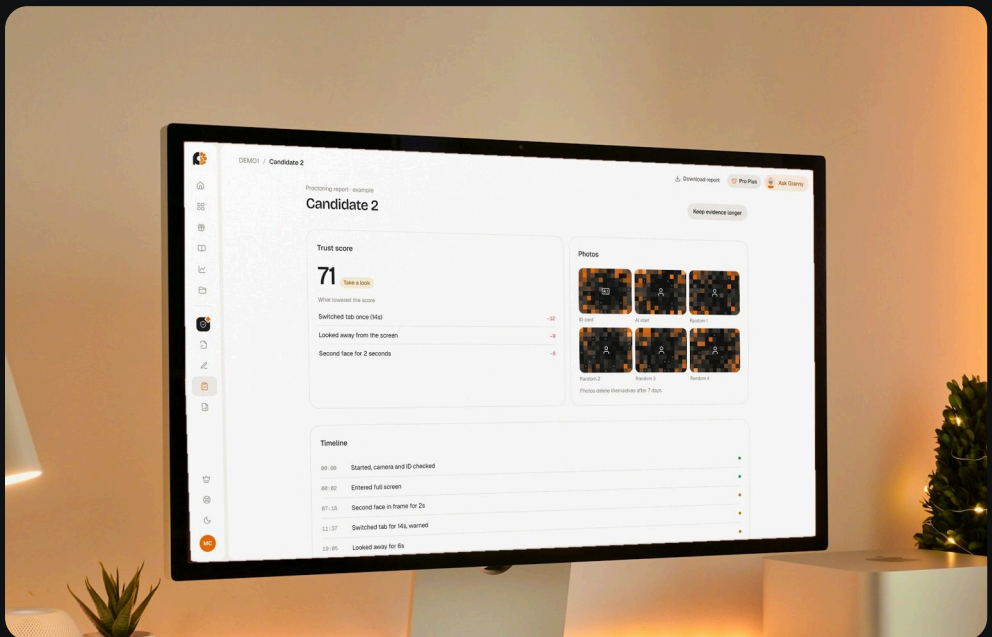

Run one recruitment test across many colleges: a separate group and time window for each campus, a different paper for every candidate, AI watching every attempt, and results that show each candidate's rank.

Built for Campus recruitment | Internal exams | Entrance tests | Certifications

AI proctoring ↗

The AI watches. You make the call.

Every flag comes with a photo, a screenshot or an audio clip. The AI never ends an exam on its own.

Camera

No face or two faces, a phone in view, a frozen feed.

Screen

Tab and app switches, leaving fullscreen, an extra monitor.

Sound and signal

Talking near the mic, going offline mid-exam.

A trust score for every candidate, a timeline of flags with evidence, and a hold that keeps the evidence during a dispute.

Candidates consent on the join form and run a system check first.

02

Who it's for

Built for every room where people learn.

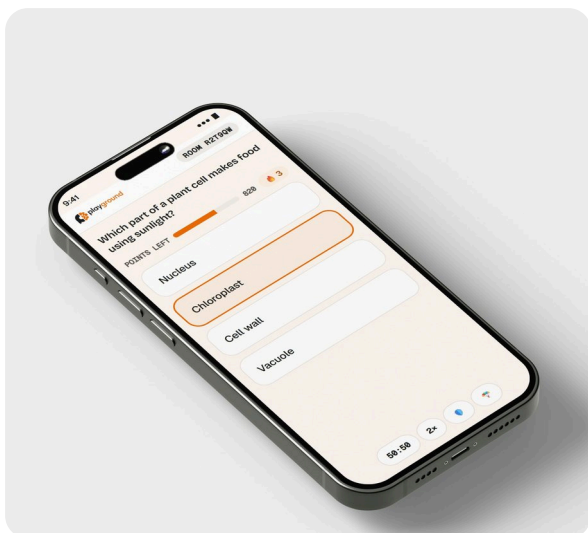

Classrooms, campuses, coaching batches, training days, town halls and quiz nights.

For educators ↘

Make your classroom a game, and see what each student missed.

A quick quiz to start, one question halfway, an exit ticket at the bell. Students play. You see who needs help, and on what.

Warm-up quiz

Five questions to start the lesson awake.

Exit ticket

Three questions at the bell.

Homework

A scheduled quiz they play at home.

1.5x

more likely to fail in lecture-only classes than in active-learning ones.

Freeman et al., PNAS, 2014

Plan

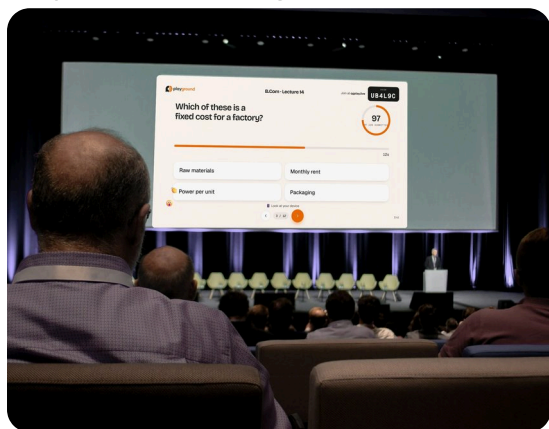

Free for 20 students a session. Pro for classes up to 100.

For universities →

When 120 students answer, you finally see the whole room.

Poll the lecture, run class tests on a schedule, host the campus quiz, and keep a record of every cohort.

Live polls in lectures

The back row answers too.

Do players need an app?

No. A code or a QR, in the phone's browser.

Does the AI fail candidates by itself?

No. It flags with evidence. You decide.

Can you stop cheating in online tests?

Pro warns on tab switches and ends the test on the third. Enterprise adds AI proctoring.

Can Quiz Granny run it for us?
